Switzerland in the Spotlight

The latest World Economic Forum Global Competitiveness Report reveals the world’s most competitive economies — and there’s a familiar face at the top of the rankings. The Global Competitiveness Index assesses the competitiveness of 138 economies around the world.

In a time of “persistent slow growth”, the report says it is a “critical reminder of the importance of competitiveness in solving both our international macro-economic challenges and laying the ground for future prosperity.

Switzerland tops the ranking for the eighth consecutive year. It comes in the top 10 in 11 out of 12 pillars of competitiveness, and tops four:

- Innovation
- Sophistication
- Labor Market Efficiency
- Technological Readiness
